Erasmus+ Policy Statement:

The University of Salford strives to embed international practice in every aspect of its operations, across learning, teaching and professional services as well as via student support mechanisms. As proud holders of the European Charter for Higher Education and as an active participant in the Erasmus+ programme, we are committed to enhancing the career and employability opportunities of all University of Salford students via study and work placements and staff via teaching and training mobilities in the Erasmus+ programme countries as part of the Key Action 103, and beyond via Key Action 107 where applicable.

As part of our International Delivery Plan 2017 – 2021 we seek to achieve our global impact by providing our staff and students with short, medium and long global citizenship opportunities and exposure both on and off campus to help them achieve their academic and career potential. We are committed to increasing the number of Salford students undertaking an international study or work placement and all students are actively encouraged to take advantage of the opportunities on offer. We see internationalisation as an ongoing activity, measured in terms of student and staff satisfaction and by the number of our students who graduate with intercultural competence, additional language skills and enhanced employability skills. Our active participation in the Erasmus+ programme is integral to our ability to deliver this. We are proud to partner with excellent quality and sustainable institutions and organisations across Europe and further afield as part of our long-term global agenda.

The University of Salford has a number of academic and collaborative partnership arrangements, with national and international organisations at undergraduate and postgraduate level and our partnerships are delivered in line with our institutional policies and through clear procedures for approval, monitoring and review. We recognise that to achieve the goals outlined in our International Delivery Plan, we require support and engagement across our academic and professional services. We work closely together to identify academic needs and to ensure that our partners share similar ethical ethos and can provide for our students with a similar range of support services as we offer at Salford.
