LLM/PgDip/PgCert International Business Law

This course provides graduates in law or any other relevant discipline with the opportunity for advanced learning in certain key areas of international business law, in academic conjunction with the advanced study of strategic management and marketing modules, which complement and contextualise the legal areas.

The course is delivered with a strongly contextual business bias and students benefit from the networking and employment prospects offered by a large and dynamic Business School.

At the final stage of study (Industry Collaboration Project) students will be able to choose whether to pursue a purely law-based focus or an interdisciplinary law and management focus.

Three reasons to study this course with us:

Offers the highly prestigious master's of Laws qualification

Available to law and non-law graduates

Learn in an internationally-orientated environment with access to a global network of like-minded professionals

Course Content

The programme is block delivered and there are several entry points throughout the year. Students will take the modules below in a sequence dependent on their start date.

The course is delivered in four blocks of intensive study periods. For each block, you study a single module for a 6-week period. Face-to-face teaching is delivered on campus for 6 hours each week. In addition, you will attend the taught element of the Industry Collaboration Project each Wednesday afternoon during the 6-week blocks.

Part-time students study alternate modules (one module on, one module off) to complete their degree in two years.

During this period, you will also undertake independent study in your own time with online support through the University's virtual learning environment, Blackboard.

For the final third of your studies, you will work on your Industry Collaboration Project, working with your own or another organisation on a live brief.

Modules

- ✓ International Strategic Management
- ✓ International Corporate Law and Governance
- ✓ International Business Law
- ✓ International Law of the Sale of Goods
- ✓ Industry Collaboration Project

Entry requirements

Normally an undergraduate degree in Law or any other appropriate discipline, at class 2.2 or above, or a relevant equivalent level professional qualification.

English Language Requirements

International applicants will be required to show a proficiency in English. An IELTS score of 6.5 (no element below 5.5) is proof of this.

Career Prospects

Both in the UK and overseas the internationally focussed LLM is a 'gold standard' qualification for entry into the legal profession, as the focus of specialisation has increasingly shifted to international legal practice.

In the corporate business world, the LLM carries a similar cachet to the Executive MBA, while offering greater specialism in its content. In many European jurisdictions, the LLM is a compulsory prerequisite for entry into the legal profession.
